During the present week, Rev. G. G. Kerr of Charleroi, president of the Washington county Sunday School Association, Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, secretary and others from this county will leave for Washintgon, D. C., to attend the international Sunday school conventioon in session from May 19 to 24. This year may be the only opportunity many will ever have for attending an international Sunday school convention. The convention was held during the past two years in Jeruaslem and Rome, and it is expected that it will be held in San Francisco next year. The progam for the convention inclues addresses by some of the most noted men in the world. Among the distinguished persons who will participate are President William H: Taft, James Bryce, ambassador from Great Britian, John Wanamaker, Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer, Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and a distinguished list of foreigners. Mrs. James S. Sherman, wife of the Vice President of the United States, will preside at one of the two simultaneous sessions for women on Friday, May 2.

In connection with the convention, all over the world, Sunday schools will celebrate May 22, as World's Sunday School Day. The date will be known as Convention Sunday. Dr. George R. Bailey, executive head of the World's Association has prepared a program that will be used in practically every one of the quarter of a million schools in the world. Hymns to be used that day have been translated into more than 200 languages, and the services prepared in a similar number of languages. Officials of the World's association have requested the pastors of all Christendom to preach special sermons on the morning of the World's Sunday School Day. The Washington county convenion will be held on June 16 and 17 at Washngton, and it is likely that at this time Rev. Kerr and others will make reports from their international convention.

UNABLE TO FIND HAMM

Whereabouts of Insurance Collector Is Still Unknown.

WIFE IS RETURNING HOME

The whereabouts of Albert Hamm, the Charleroi insurance collector who disappeared from his home here some time ago, cannot be learned, and Mrs. Hamm and children are expecting to go to her parents' home, near Piladelphia. Funds to defray the expenses of the trip have been given by Charleroi people. The children have all nearly recovered from the measles, the disease which they were afflicted with when Mr. Hamm disappeared from home. One girl, however, has been left partly deaf, and may never regain her hearing. A careful search is being made for clues which will lead to the discovery of the whereabouts of Hamm, and if found he will likely be arrested and a charrge of desertion preferred against him.

GOVERNMENT PAPER WILL CONTAIN PLAN FOR SAVING LIVES

Congressman J. K. Tener Secured Permission To Print In Congressional Record Supt. Johnston's Idea.

Sometime in the near future in the Congressional Record will be printed at the instance of Congressamn J. K. Tener of Charlreoi an elaborate plan for saving the lives imperiled by coal mine accidents. The plan has been worked out by Jesse K. Johnston, superintendent of the Charleroi Coal works here, and one of the best known mining authorities of the State.

The plan calls for the installation of bore holes from underground life saving chambers. There would be two bore holes, one for the air to enter and the other for the expulsion of the impure air from the chamber. The equipment would include first aid appliances, safety lamps, oxygen flasks, etc. The chambers would be connected with the mine proper and the entrance protected by doors of boiler pla e. The sides and roof of the chambers would be lined with concrete.

It is a well known fact that the most of the deaths in coal mine accidents are caused by suffocation, the men being imprisoned by the closing up of the air cavities, soon using up all the pure air, and being forced to breath impurities until overcome. It was on this theory that Mr. Johnston worked in preparing the plan.

By this idea telephones could be installed in the mine, and be used as a means of communication with those who might be imprisoned by an explosion or otherwise so that the more prompt assistance could be rendered

CATHOLICS DUST THE LUTHERANS

Score Very Much One Sided In Favor of St. Jerome Boys

The Catholics lorded it over the Lutherans to the tune of 13 to 5 last night, but the game may not be over yet. The Lutherans before the start entered a protest on the grounds that Haywood, the Cathloic shortstop, was a professional, and consequently not eligible to play.

Apparently the Lutherans were minus something, principally their mainstay pitcher, Miller, who was out on account of an injured arm. In the first the Catholics got six runs and came back the second with two. Another one came in the third. About this time the Lutherans began finding Dietz and pushed over three themselves. The Catholics got four more in the sixth and the Lutherans two more in the same inning, when the game was called quits. The score:

WANT TO OBSERVE THE COMET'S TAIL

Lutheran People Going Out Tonight to Witness Effect On Earth.

All members of the Charleroi Luther League are earnesity requested to be present at the reuglar monthly business meeting to be held this evening. The delegates who attended the 36th convention at Pittsburg will give their report at this meeting, and there is other important business to transact. It has been suggested that after the meeting the members form a party and from some favorable point, preferably on the hill, witness the proceeding as the earth passes through the tail of Hally's comet, which performance is expected to take place bewteen 10 and 12 o'clock.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS WITH LIVERY HORSE

A colored woman who has been staying around the Branzell mines near Bentleyville for some time went to I. B. Richardson, the liveryman to hire a horse and buggy to make a trip to Beallsville. Mr. Richardson did not have one on hand at the time, the woman went to W. N. Greenlee to get a horse which she got, while the buggy belonged to Mr. Richardson. She said she would return at 1 o'clock, but when the time came around she did not show up and as a result Mr. Greenlee and Constable Sam Cox and O. N. Frye got an automobile and started in pursuit of the woman. They first went to Fredericktown, but did not get any trace of her there, so they went on to Brownsville, where they put up for the night. It is said that this woman hails from Dunbar, Fayette county.

JUDGE TAYLOR ACCEPTS INVITATION TO SPEAK

Will Make One of Principal Addresses Here On The Fourth.

ASK FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

Personal Subscriptions Asked For to Aid on Purchasing Fireworks.

The finance committte for the Fourth of July celebration, composed of R. H. Rush, K. W. Daly, E. W. Hastings, G. W. Risbeck and W. H. Gaut will in a few days complete their work of collecting the money to be used to defray the the expense of Charleroi's big day, and while every business house in the town that has been seen by the committee, has paid the amount it was assessed, there will still be needed a few hundred dollars, that will have to be raised by popular subscription which the committee is ready to receive. Each day the amount given will be printed in this paper and it is to be hoped the people will show a patriotic spirit by giving whatever amount they feel able towards this big celebration. The following are the names of those who contributed today:

S. C. Todd.....$2.50
A. P. Stewart..... 2.50

If the people will come forward and make a liberal contribution it will enable the various committees to carrry out their part of the program, which will mean that Charleroi will have the biggest day's entertainment the city has ever had. This will bring the people here from miles around. Besides, the size of the fireworks display will depend largely on what can be raised by popular subscription, and the committee hopes that everybody will strain a point and help make this part of the program which will be enjoyed by thousands of people, a display long to be remembered and the best ever given in the valley.

Chairman Stewart is holding back his order for fireworks in order to get the best assortment he can for the amount of money allotted to his committee. And from quotations he has received the people can rest assured that the night's entertainment will be well worth going miles to see. If everybody would give 50 cents or more to this committee it would make the order large enough that the firm would send an experienced man here to put the display off to the best advantage.

Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington this morning notified Prof. J.G. Pentz of the invitation and reception committee on arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration, that he would accept with pleasure the invitation to be one of the speakers. Judge Taylor is well liked along the valley and many will come especiallly to meet and greet him.

Mrs. William Duffy.

Besides the husband several children survive. Mrs. Duffy was formerly a resident of Fayette City, and is well known.

Famous Athletic Coach Talks To Young Men at the Presbyterian Church.

DISCIPLINE IS NECESSARY

Under the auspices of the John G. Paton Bible class and the Junior Bible class of the First Presbyterian church Joseph Thompson of Beaver Falls, athletic coach of the Unviersity of Pittsburg, last night gave a talk to men and boys at the First Presbyterian church on "Athletics."

Coach Thompson told his hearers what they must do and what they must not do in order to succeed as an athlete. He was particularly strong against smoking and the use of cigarets, making the point that they were extremely harmful to the boy or youth training for an athletic life. The moral value of an athletic training, he said, was very great, because of the influence on the mind in after life. The question of diet, sleep and discipline were treated to some extent by the lecturer.

This morning Coach Thompson spoke to the High School and particularly to the members of the track team which is to contest Saturday with the Monessen High School track team for honors on the athletic field. He strongly urged the members of the team to leave tobacco alone and to maintain an even, regular mode of life, stating that only in this way could the best results be obtained.

Still Seein' Things.

The Washington Observer makes the brash statement that if more than 1,000 votes are polled for all parties at the primary election June 4 in Charleroi it will be good cause for investigation by the grand jury. As for the town having 1,600 qualified voters, as shown by the registry lists, the Observer scouts at the idea, and says it is ridiculous to consider it for a moment. Incompetency, ignorance and generally inability of the registry assessors is the cause assigned by the Observer for the number of voters returned in the borough.

In the good old days, before fashion, the high cost of living and various other things brought about that condition so deplored by Col. Roosevelt, a fairly accurate basis for estimating population was to count five for each voter. Later statistics have reduced the ratio, so that if Charleroi, according to the Observer's statement, should poll 1,000 votes, it would have a population of approximately 3,500. As the census of 1900—ten years ago—gave it 5,903 it can readily be seen that the Observer's accuracy is on a par with its veracity. While the exact population of Charleroi is not known, it is near the 10,000 mark, as a private computation this spring, before the census enumeration, gave it more than 9,000. Those 346 phantom voters have befuddled the Observers' reason as well as its vision.

Nothing to Fear

Beginning at 11:20 o'clock tonight, according to astronomical calculations, the tail of Halley's comet is due to switch the earth. The contact will end at 1:20, provided both comet and the earth continue on ther predestined course, as they undoubtedly will. There is nothing to fear in this meeting with the tail of the celestial wanderer, and but for the accuracy of the calculations on the part of astronomers none would know of the encounter. As a matter of fact the earth passed through the tail of the comet of '61 and no one was the wiser. The fact was not learned until in after years, when calculations not perfected at the time were applied later and traced the course of the great comet of that year. In order to allay the fears of the timid Director Frank Schlesinger of the Allegheny Observatory issues this final bulletn, which has been virtually corroboradted by all the eminent astonomers the world over:

"The earth will pass through the tail of Halley's comet tonight between 10 o'clock and midnight. There will be no visible effect here. The head of the comet will not be nearer than 14,000,000 miles from the earth. No harm can be done the earth either by the head or by the tail. The head will be too far away and the gases of which the tail is composed can have no material effect. If all the gas in the entire tail were condensed and should strike the earth there could be no effect."

An Important Election

With a Congressman, a State Senator and Three Assemblymen to nominate, the forthcoming primary election is the most important civic event of the year in this state. On the selection of these officials depends the action of the representatives of the people of this county and districts in the council halls of both State and Nation, and the voters have it entirely within their hands to carry out the expressed will of the majority. This can only be done by every qualified voter turning out at the nominating election on June and expressing his sentiments by voting for the candidates he believes will best execute the will of the majority.

The great weakness of a Republic is the indifference of its people and their willingness to submit to government by a minority, instead of insisting upon majority rule. As a matter of course those who are personally interested, will work to attain their ends. That is human nature. But the majority who should be interested in the common good, too frequently remains away from the polls and permits the minority to rule. This is the cause of all misgovernment, rottenness and corruption. The selfish and vicious rule, because the good people, who are aways in the majority, permits it. Let every voter prepare to turn out at the primary election, and there will be nothing to fear.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

As a political organ the Monessen Independent is in hard luck. Just at the time when the Independent was ready to shoot, Congressman Huff, like Davy Crocket's coon, "came down." Then, when the Independent gets its guns trained on the Huff candidate, that man withdraws himself and the Independent's candidate, quits the race, while a Butler man is slated to run without opposition.

The trouble with E. F. Acheson is that he doesnt' seem to know just where he stands politically, and consequently he is continually getting muddled.

While the many astronomers have been warning people what would happen when the earth dips into the comets' tail, the result thus far has been practically unnoticeable.

In Washington, D.C., they are having great time firing people nowadays. Another secretary was discharged day before yesterday. Pretty soon they won't have enough to count the census.

Possibly the only advantage gained by being a first nighter at the show, is that you escape the talkative man who has seen the play.

If the popular up-to-date music doesn't please the average individual all that is left for him to do is to get a Jew's harp and pick out "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," for himself.

Familiarity.

A good many years ago, when Wordsworth was poet laureate of England, a worthy Cumberland yeoman walked many miles in response to widely scattered notices to hear the "poet laureate" address a meeting. When he discovered who held the high sounding title, he left the hall in indignation. "'Twas nobbut old Wadsworth o' Rydal, efter aw!" he said scornfully on his return to his family.

Had an Answer.

This story is being told on a Swede in central Kansas who was given to excessive use of the bottle. He was working at a certain house, doing odd jobs, and the daughter of the house knew of his reprehensible habits. She thought it time for some one to remonstrate with him on the error of his ways.

"Why," she asked, "are you not ashamed to spend all your wages and make your wife take in washing? Why don't you give her some money?"

"Well," he answered, "I have an income besides my wages."

"Oh, is that so?" said the daughter, somewhat mollified.

"Yes," he said, "I have an income from the queen of Sweden."

"What for?" asked the girl.

"For minding my own business," answered the Swede, going on with his work.—Kansas City Journal.

The Troubles of a French Academician.

The candidate, once elected, is bound to pronounce a harangue before he is allowed to take part in the work of the noble body. The director who happens to be in office answers him. This oration is invariably, or at least should be, composed first of thanks, more or less humble, for the great honor conferred, then of a panegyric of the happy one's predecessor. And, oh, how difficult that sometimes must be! More than one has rushed to the encyclopedia, then to the libraries, so as to get some clear notion of the illustrious eximmortal! Then fate is often ironical. A historian may have to celebrate the talent of a writer of light comedies, a legitimist may have to praise a Socialist, or else the newly elected member may have to speak of his most intimate enemy.—Jeanne Mairet in Atlantic.

Rough on the Architect.

"When I got the order to design a big wholesale house for a firm that has stores in five cities besides New York naturally I was elated," said an architect. "'I'll plan a building that is bound to be satisfactory,' I said to myself, 'and then they will give me the commission for those new stores they expect to put up in those other five cities.'

"Well, I did turn out a splendid store—a store that was admired by everybody in the wholesale trade. My patrons were pleased, too, but instead of giving me an order for those other buildings they simply used the same plans over and over again and built all their houses alike. That's what I call playing a low down trick on a fellow."—New York Globe.

Animals and Electricity.

Man has much greater power of electrical resistance or much less susceptibility than many other animals. A leech placed upon a copper plate which rests upon a larger plate of zinc is unable to crawl off on account of the feeble electric action excited by the contact of the metals. Horses are troubled by slight differences of potential. An ox treated for rheumatism with electricity succumbed to a current absolutely inoffensive to man.

Expert.

"Your daughter is a skillful performer on the piano, is she not?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumrox. "The way she can play for hours without getting an earache or a sprained wrist proves to me she's uncommonly expert."—Washington Star.

Man's Responsibility For Disease.

Man's often ill considered interference with nature has more than once aided in the dissemination of disease. Even in the vegetable world he brought over phylloxera to ravage European vineyards and took coffee to Ceylon, where a mold was waiting to compass its speedy ruin. In Africa he has fostered nagana in cattle and sleeping sickness in his own species. In fact, much of his tale of earth has resulted in the games of what Metschnikow aptly calls "disharmonies."—Independent Outlook

JUST MARK THE DIFFERENCE

While Political Comparisons Are Odious They Are Interesting at This Time

UP TO VOTERS SAYS PENROSE

The Biggest Boss Will Name the Candidate Say the Factional Followers in the Democratic Camp—Some Significant Editorials.

Comparisons are of necessity odious, but a review of the political conditions in Pennsylvania at this time is much more instructive than offensive. The attention of the people was never more firmly fixed on political conditions. The general interest in the result of the approaching campaign in this State borders closely upon the interest attaching to a national contest. The policies, principles and professions of the leaders of the two great political parties—Republican and Democratic—are being weighed and sifted and analyzed and the purpose of the average voter is to have the whole people get the best there is in the way of State administration.

The State conventions of both parties are but a few weeks away. The Republicans of the State will assemble in convention within a month. The Democrats will gather to make their gubernatorial nomination within five weeks and the methods of the leaders of the two parties at this time justify serious consideration and warrant comparison.

"The question of a Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania is up to the Republican voters of the State," is the message which has been sent abroad by Senator Boies Penrose the accepted Republican leader in Pennsylvania. Senator Penrose is exceedingly busy with his very responsible and ever increasing duties at the national capital. He has proved his worth in the United States Senate. He has been for the people and with them in every effort he has made. He has led the way for the Republican party not only in Pennsylvania but in the nation and he, probably more than any one individual aside from President Taft, has made the policies and principles of the Republican party the very cornerstone of American progress and prosperity. Senator Penrose has insisted that the Republican voters should be heard on all questions of party policy. He has insisted that the humblest follower in the Republican ranks should share responsibility with the party leaders for the party's candidates and he has manifested sublime confidence in the judgment of the rank and file in the regular Republican organization. So far as he is concerned, and his interest in party success has never flagged, the Republican voters must name the Republican candidate for Governor at the convention next month. That fact is not known of all men. That policy established Senator Penrose firmly in the hearts of the Republican voters of the State. That fact has set a dozen or more prominent Republicans hustling through the State for delegates for the gubernatorial nomination and each candidate realizes and understands that the candidate with the most delegates at the convention is certain of the nomination. That policy secured the nomination and election of Governor Edwin S. Stuart and by the same token Governor Stuart's administration has absolutely guaranteed the election of a Republican as his successor.

Now mark the difference. What individual Democrat has any place or standing in the race for the gubernatorial nomination in that part in the State? The Democratic contest is simply a battle royal of the Democratic bosses of the nation. The individuals are engulfed in the fog arising from the arena in which the Democratic big bugs are struggling. W. J. Bryan, bared to the belt, sabre drawn, bedraggled banners again raised in defiance, will nominate W. H. Berry for Governor or bust in the effort. Colonel J. M. Guffey, his wounds still smarting from the humiliation heaped upon him and his followers by Mr. Bryan at the Denver convention only a year or so back, infixed and safe command of his party organization in the State will have none of either Bryan or Berry. Colonel Guffey being intensely human would prefer revenge to either of them and will defeat both of them or die in the last political ditch in his war of extermination against what he very properly considers the wreckers of his party. The people, of such vital importance in the Republican calculations, do not have even standing room with the Democratic antagonists. But of course, comparisons are odious.

To the Republicans generally it is of course gratifying to realize that there is no sign of discontent or insurgency in any section of the State. In several sections individual ambitions are being adjusted to party harmony and the absence of that bossism which is wrecking the Democracy is encouraging. The Republicans of the State will approve heartily the appended sentiment editorially urged by the Kittanning "Tribune" of recent date:

"It has been truly said that Republican insurgency is Democratic opportunity. There is no man of intelligence in this country who doesn't know that the Democrats would not have a ghost of a show of winning on their own policies and that their only hope and their chief reliance is on that small body of dissatisfied Republicans called 'insurgents,' who insist that the great majority of the Republican party shall yield to them, thus insuring Democratic success. This is a clear case of minority demanding under the threat of destroying the party."

The uplifting magazines are rapidly abandoning their efforts to destroy the Republican party of the nation and the following from the "Columbian Magazine" for May, discussing the assaults upon the Republican party, is indeed significant:

"Are they blind? Do they not see the hand-writing on the wall, as clear and vivid as that which struck terror into the reveling courtiers of Babylon? Do they not see that the Republican party must either purge or perish?—and the party will not perish. It will throw off the scum which has risen to the top and in which vile things disport and fatten and flourish, and think in their puny, petty minds that the party, this splendid stream springing from the sources fed by such men as Abraham Lincoln and Hamlin and Chase and War Governors Andrew and Curtin and Morgan, and other men as great as they were pure—that this magnificent party was made for them, the maggots and blowflies of politics, to feast and fester on! The Republican party will not perish. It will get rid of the preying parasites and vindicate its rights to the people's confidence, and to the commission which the people have given by an overwhelming vote to our Republican President.

"The Columbian Magazine is not partisan, and what we have said is in no partisan spirit. It is in the American spirit; it is the expression of that American sense of honor, decency and self-respect which revolts against the prostitution of one of the great party organizations to the service of degraded and degenerate political schemers."

A DEADLY CONTEST.

Tragic Climax of a Bicycle Race in Australia.

One of the most singular events in the annals of athletics occurred a few years ago at Sydney, Australia. The occasion was a great electric light bicycle race, and the attendance was not less than 10,000 people. There were fifty entries, two of whom, James Somerville and Percy Cliff, were not only professional rivals, but deadly enemies. Both were considered expert riders.

From the start of the race Somerville led, with Cliff a close second. Somerville kept the lead throughout and came into the last lap with Cliff only a few feet behind him. When about twenty-five yards from the finish Somerville put on a terrific burst of speed and drew away from his rival. Suddenly at this point his grip on the handle bar relaxed, and he fell forward. The machine, however, under the tremendous impulse it had received, raced ahead like an arrow, the rider hanging limply over the handle bar.

Four yards from the tape the machine slowed down a little. At this point the front wheel of Cliff's machine struck the hind wheel of Somerville's, sending both wheel and rider across the tape. Somerville won the race, but he was dead several seconds before he crossed the tape.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Fishing Snakes.

While fishing in the Fort St. George moat, at Madras, a correspondent of Country Life saw a snake fifteen inches long come out of the water with a fish in its mouth. On catching sight of the writer it dropped the fish and bolted, leaving the fish on the bank alive. On another occasion, while fishing in a reservoir near Ghaziabad, he again saw a snake emerging from the water with a fish in its mouth. This snake was about twenty-four inches long, and on killing it he was able to identify the fish as a common species of Indian fresh water fish. Later on he saw a viper, nearly four feet long, lying in shallow water. The writer hooked it ashore with his tackle, upon which the snake attacked him, leaving a large yellow fang in his fishing rod.

Chinese Filial Piety.

The following Chinese story illustrates the national regard for filial piety: A man and his wife maltreated the husband's mother. As a punishment the scene of the act was openly cursed, the active agents were put to death, and the mother of the wife was bamboozled, branded and exiled for her daughter's crime. The house in which the offenders lived was dug up from the foundations. Moreover, the scholars of the district were precluded from attending public examinations, and even the magistrates were deprived of their offices. These drastic measures were designed to render the empire filial.

Opposites.

Upgardson—Isn't a lawsuit over a patent right about the dullest thing you ever saw?

Atom—Not always. I attended a trial of that kind once that was too funny for anything. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6,000 word document he called a brief.—Chicago Tribune.

Spelling.

On a member of parliament being accused of bad spelling Disraeli humorously defended him by declaring that "a man must be an idiot who could not spell a word more ways than one."

Among all other vices there is none I hate more than cruelty, the extremest of all vices.—Montaigne.

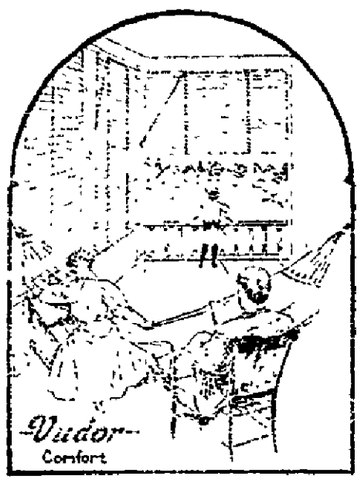
VUDOR
Porch Shades
Make Your Porch
Cool, Airy, Shady, Private



You need Vudor Porch Shades to get the most out of your porch.

To make it a spot where you can rest or work on the hottest days--outdoors, yet free from the sun's glare and heat

You can do this with Vudor Porch Shades; you can add to the house another room, cool and shady where you may enjoy every refreshing breeze, in secluded comfort.

Vudor Porch Shades are very durable, and will last many season.

Another good feature about them is the peculiar fact that those sitting on the porch can see out, but passersby cannot see in. In other words, you have complete privacy, and can use the porch or veranda the same as an inside room, with infinitely more comfort on hot days.

Vudor
PORCH SHADES

Vudor Porch Shades are just the thing for "boxing in" porches or balconies that are to be used as outdoor sleeping or living apartments.

Vudor Porch shades are made of thin, flat strips of wood of the kind that best endures out-of-door exposure. These strips are closely bound together with Some Twine, in a lock-stitch weave.

They are artistically stained in soft, pleasing colors. These colors are weather proof and will not fade or crack off.

The shades can be instantly raised or lowered (operating on the principle of a theatre curtain) and are easily and readily put up.

Cost and Sizes

Any ordinary porch can be shaded with Vudor Shades at a cost of from $3.00 to $10.00.

FILIAL DUTY.

An Example From the Chinese of a Good Little Boy.

In China the "Book of Filial Duty" has been employed to instruct the young for the last 2,500 years. In it are twenty-four examples for good boys. What these examples are like may be understood from the story of Wu Meng, example No. 20. Wu Meng it seems, was very obedient to his parents. One day at the age of eight he noticed with pain that the mosquitoes annoyed his parents while they were trying to sleep. Presently he hit upon a plan to rescue them.

Says the author of this classic: "The buzzing of the mosquitoes sounds like 'ying ying' and if it united hum is almost equal to thunder. His tired parents are reclining on their bed, their countenances already sunk in slumber. Legions of mosquitoes fiercely attack them, alternately retreating and advancing. The insects disturb the dreaming sleepers, and with annoyance they toss from side to side.

"Wu sees them sucking his parents' blood, which causes his heart to grieve. His flesh, he thinks, can be easily pierced, but that of his parents is hard to penetrate. Lying on the bed, he threw off his clothes, and soon, feeling the pain of their attacks, he cried, 'I have no dread of you, nor have you any reason to fear me!

"'Although I have a fan, I will not use it, nor will I strike you with my hand. I will lie very quiet and let you gorge to the full.'"

Thus did the parents of Wu Meng get a chance to sleep in peace.

To Make Good People.

Nothing can make good men and women that does not take them first as individuals and go to the very roots of their beginning. They need to be put right in their fundamental relationships, impressed with a sense of their duty to God and man and furnished with an adequate motive power.—Rev. W. R. Taylor, Presbyterian, Rochester, N. Y.

Perseverance In Divine Life.

True believers may become indifferent and lukewarm, but they cannot finally and totally fall away from the state of salvation and shall persevere and be finally saved. They may fall into sin and error, but he that hath begun a good work in them will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ.—Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, Presbyterian, Washington.

Truthfulness and Sincerity.

A man's first duty to himself is to be sincere—"to mean what he says, to say what he means." Insincerity undermines every other virtue. Its inward reaction is altogether evil. Truthfulness is not merely speaking the truth; it is more than that. Truthfulness is simplicity in character and sincerity in motive.—Rev Dr. Thomas Van Ness, Unitarian, Boston.

Worked It Off.

Just what may happen to a man who isn't strictly honest was illustrated on a street car a few days ago. A man handed the conductor a dollar and asked for a strip of tickets. He received his five tickets, and then the conductor fumbled around for change and managed to make a "mistake." He handed the man two half dollars instead of 75 cents. The man put away the money without saying a word and in a couple of minutes worked his way to the front of the car and got off. "Say, conductor," said an interested observer, "did you know you didn't give that man the right change?" The conductor smiled complacently. "That's all right," he said. "If he'd been honest and returned that bad half dollar I'd have given him a good quarter for it. I've been trying to get rid of that piece of money for a week. I guess he deserved to get stung."—Philadelphia Record.

An Observant Host.

"You don't seem to have as much call for hammocks as you used to," said the regular boarder.

"No," answered Farmer Corntossel. "I guess times have been too hard for silk stockings this summer."—Washington Star.

Our Daily Ice.

Once more, altogether,
In sorrow we're sunk;
The warmer the weather
The smaller the chunk.
—Washington Star.

Cynical.

A Chicago professor says, "The man who never parleys over cab fare, who never scans the prices on a menu and who hibernates when he's broke carries an infallible amulet against feminine criticism."—Kansas City Star.

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

Entered second class mail at Charleroi, June 15, 1900, according to Act of Congress of March 8, 1879

VOL. X. NO. 231. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1910. One Cent

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICIALS WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

International Association Will Meet in Washington, D. C.

WORLD'S SUNDAY MAY 22

Sunday Schools All Over The World Will Celebrate Day With Special Program.

During the present week, Rev. G. G. Kerr of Charleroi, president of the Washington county Sunday School Association, Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, secretary and others from this county will leave for Washintgon, D. C., to attend the international Sunday school convention in session from May 19 to 24. Delegates will be present from all over the world. Mrs. R. M. Ackison of Charleroi expects to attend, and Prof. H. Saylor from Roscoe, and A. J. Shutt from Califronia, and others from the county seat and along the Monongahela valley.

This year may be the only opportunity many will ever have for attending an international Sunday school convention. The convention was held during the past two years in Jeruaslem and Rome, and it is expected that it will be held in San Francisco next year. The progam for the convention inclues addresses by some of the most noted men in the world. Among the distinguished persons who will participate are President William H. Taft, James Bryce, ambassador from Great Britian, John Wanamaker, Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer, Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and a distinguished list of foreigners. Mrs. James S. Sherman, wife of the Vice President of the United States, will preside at one of the two simultaneous sessions for women on Friday, May 2.

In connection with the convention, all over the world, Sunday schools will celebrate May 22, as World's Sunday School Day. The date will be known as Convention Sunday. Dr. George R. Bailey, executive head of the World's Association has prepared a program that will be used in practically every one of the quarter of a million schools in the world. Hymns to be used that day have been translated into more than 200 languages, and the services prepared in a similar number of languages. Officials of the World's association have requested the pastors of all Christendom to preach special sermons on the morning of the World's Sunday School Day. The Washington county convenion will be held on June 16 and 17 at Washngton, and it is likely that at this time Rev. Kerr and others will make reports from their international convention.

Rev. J. W. Jeffries.

Rev. J. W. Jeffries, a colored minister of Eliazbeth, died yesterday at his home there. He was well known in Charleroi and Sunday before last delivered a sermon to the Glass City Lodge of Odd Fellows at St. James A. M. E. church, Charleroi. He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Mrs. Sidney Balza.

Mrs. Sidney Balza, 64 years old, died at her home 1002 Crest avenue yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Charleroi cemetery.

UNABLE TO FIND HAMM

Whereabouts of Insurance Collector Is Still Unknown.

WIFE IS RETURNING HOME

The whereabouts of Albert Hamm, the Charleroi insurance collector who disappeared from his home here some time ago, cannot be learned, and Mrs. Hamm and children are expecting to go to her parents' home, near Piladelphia. Funds to defray the expenses of the trip have been given by Charleroi people. The children have all nearly recovered from the measles, the disease which they were afflicted with when Mr. Hamm disappeared from home. One girl, however, has been left partly deaf, and may never regain her hearing. A careful search is being made for clues which will lead to the discovery of the whereabouts of Hamm, and if found he will likely be arrested and a charge of desertion preferred against him.

GOVERNMENT PAPER WILL CONTAIN PLAN FOR SAVING LIVES

Congressman J. K. Tener Secured Permission To Print In Congressional Record Supt. Johnston's Idea.

Sometime in the near future in the Congressional Record will be printed at the instance of Congressamn J. K. Tener of Charlreoi an elaborate plan for saving the lives imperiled by coal mine accidents. The plan has been worked out by Jesse K. Johnston, superintendent of the Charleroi Coal works here, and one of the best known mining authorities of the State.

The plan calls for the installation of bore holes from underground life saving chambers. There would be two bore holes, one for the air to enter and the other for the expulsion of the impure air from the chamber. The equipment would include first aid appliances, safety lamps, oxygen flasks, etc. The chambers would be connected with the mine proper and the entrance protected by doors of boiler pla e. The sides and roof of the chambers would be lined with concrete.

It is a well known fact that the most of the deaths in coal mine accidents are caused by suffocation, the men being imprisoned by the closing up of the air cavities, soon using up all the pure air, and being forced to breath impurities until overcome. It was on this theory that Mr. Johnston worked in preparing the plan.

By this idea telephones could be installed in the mine, and be used as a means of communication with those who might be imprisoned by an explosion or otherwise so that the more prompt assistance could be rendered.

CATHOLICS DUST THE LUTHERANS

Score Very Much One Sided In Favor of St. Jerome Boys

The Catholics lorded it over the Lutherans to the tune of 13 to 5 last night, but the game may not be over yet. The Lutherans before the start entered a protest on the grounds that Haywood, the Catholic shortstop, was a professional, and consequently not eligible to play.

Apparently the Lutherans were minus something, principally their mainstay pitcher, Miller, who was out on account of an injured arm. In the first the Catholics got six runs and came back the second with two. Another one came in the third. About this time the Lutherans began finding Dietz and pushed over three themselves. The Catholics got four more in the sixth and the Lutherans two more in the same inning, when the game was called quits. The score:

WOMAN DISAPPEARS WITH LIVERY HORSE

A colored woman who has been staying around the Branzell mines near Bentleyville for some time went to I. B. Richardson, the liveryman to hire a horse and buggy to make a trip to Beallsville. Mr. Richardson did not have one on hand at the time, the woman went to W. N. Greenlee to get a horse which she got, while the buggy belonged to Mr. Richardson. She said she would return at 1 o'clock, but when the time came around she did not show up and as a result Mr. Greenlee and Constable Sam Cox and O. N. Frye got an automobile and started in pursuit of the woman. They first went to Fredericktown, but did not get any trace of her there, so they went on to Brownsville, where they put up for the night. It is said that this woman hails from Dunbar, Fayette county.

Famous Athletic Coach Talks To Young Men at the Presbyterian Church.

DISCIPLINE IS NECESSARY

Under the auspices of the John G. Paton Bible class and the Junior Bible class of the First Presbyterian church Joseph Thompson of Beaver Falls, athletic coach of the Unviersity of Pittsburg, last night gave a talk to men and boys at the First Presbyterian church on "Athletics."

Coach Thompson told his hearers what they must do and what they must not do in order to succeed as an athlete. He was particularly strong against smoking and the use of cigarets, making the point that they were extremely harmful to the boy or youth training for an athletic life. The moral value of an athletic training, he said, was very great, because of the influence on the mind in after life. The question of diet, sleep and discipline were treated to some extent by the lecturer.

This morning Coach Thompson spoke to the High School and particularly to the members of the track team which is to contest Saturday with the Monessen High School track team for honors on the athletic field. He strongly urged the members of the team to leave tobacco alone and to maintain an even, regular mode of life, stating that only in this way could the best results be obtained.

Personal Subscriptions Asked For to Aid on Purchasing Fireworks.

The finance committte for the Fourth of July celebration, composed of R. H. Rush, K. W. Daly, E. W. Hastings, G. W. Risbeck and W. H. Gaut will in a few days complete their work of collecting the money to be used to defray the the expense of Charleroi's big day, and while every business house in the town that has been seen by the committee, has paid the amount it was assessed, there will still be needed a few hundred dollars, that will have to be raised by popular subscription which the committee is ready to receive. Each day the amount given will be printed in this paper and it is to be hoped the people will show a patriotic spirit by giving whatever amount they feel able towards this big celebration. The following are the names of those who contributed today:

S. C. Todd.....$2.50
A. P. Stewart.....2.50

If the people will come forward and make a liberal contribution it will enable the various committees to carrry out their part of the program, which will mean that Charleroi will have the biggest day's entertainment the city has ever had. This will bring the people here from miles around. Besides, the size of the fireworks display will depend largely on what can be raised by popular subscription, and the committee hopes that everybody will strain a point and help make this part of the program which will be enjoyed by thousands of people, a display long to be remembered and the best ever given in the valley.

Chairman Stewart is holding back his order for fireworks in order to get the best assortment he can for the amount of money allotted to his committee. And from quotations he has received the people can rest assured that the night's entertainment will be well worth going miles to see. If everybody would give 50 cents or more to this committee it would make the order large enough that the firm would send an experienced man here to put the display off to the best advantage.

Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington this morning notified Prof. J.G. Pentz of the invitation and reception committee on arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration, that he would accept with pleasure the invitation to be one of the speakers. Judge Taylor is well liked along the valley and many will come especially to meet and greet him.

Mrs. William Duffy.

Mrs. Alice Duffy, 32 years old, wife of William Duffy, of Donora, died yesterday at 12:10 o'clock p. m. at the McKeesport Hospital, following an operation for appendicitis. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of Frank McKenna, a brother-in-law at Fayette City. Interment will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery near Fayette City. Besides the husband several children survive. Mrs. Duffy was formerly a resident of Fayette City, and is well known.

Still Seein' Things.

The Washington Observer makes the brash statement that if more than 1,000 votes are polled for all parties at the primary election June 4 in Charleroi it will be good cause for investigation by the grand jury. As for the town having 1,600 qualified voters, as shown by the registry lists, the Observer scouts at the idea, and says it is ridiculous to consider it for a moment. Incompetency, ignorance and generally inability of the registry assessors is the cause assigned by the Observer for the number of voters returned in the borough.

In the good old days, before fashion, the high cost of living and various other things brought about that condition so deplored by Col. Roosevelt, a fairly accurate basis for estimating population was to count five for each voter. Later statistics have reduced the ratio, so that if Charleroi, according to the Observer's statement, should poll 1,000 votes, it would have a population of approximately 3,500. As the census of 1900—ten years ago—gave it 5,903 it can readily be seen that the Observer's accuracy is on a par with its veracity. While the exact population of Charleroi is not known, it is near the 10,000 mark, as a private computation this spring, before the census enumeration, gave it more than 9,000. Those 346 phantom voters have befuddled the Observers' reason as well as its vision.

Nothing to Fear

Beginning at 11.20 o'clock tonight, according to astronomical calculations, the tail of Halley's comet is due to switch the earth. The contact will end at 1:20, provided both comet and the earth continue on ther predestined course, as they undoubtedly will. There is nothing to fear in this meeting with the tail of the celestial wanderer, and but for the accuracy of the calculations on the part of astronomers none would know of the encounter. As a matter of fact the earth passed through the tail of the comet of '61 and no one was the wiser. The fact was not learned until in after years, when calculations not perfected at the time were applied later and traced the course of the great comet of that year. In order to allay the fears of the timid Director Frank Schlesinger of the Allegheny Observatory issues this final bulletn, which has been sent [illegible] the eminent astonomers the world over:

"The earth will pass through the tail of Halley's comet tonight between 10 o'clock and midnight. There will be no visible effect here. The head of the comet will not be nearer than 14,000,000 miles from the earth. No harm can be done the earth either by the head or by the tail. The head will be too far away and the gases of which the tail is composed can have no material effect. If all the gas in the entire tail were condensed and should strike the earth there could be no effect."

An Important Election

With a Congressman, a State Senator and Three Assemblymen to nominate, the forthcoming primary election is the most important civic event of the year in this State. On the selection of these officials depends the action of the representatives of the people of this county and districts in the council halls of both State and Nation, and the voters have it entirely within their hands to carry out the expressed will of the majority. This can only be done by every qualified voter turning out at the nominating election on June and expressing his sentiments by voting for the candidates he believes will best execute the will of the majority.

The great weakness of a Republic is the indifference of its people and their willingness to submit to government by a minority, instead of insisting upon majority rule. As a matter of course those who are personally interested, will work to attain their ends, That is human nature. But the majority who should be interested in the common good, too frequently remains away from the polls and permits the minority to rule. This is the cause of all misgovernment, rottenness and corruption. The selfish and vicious rule, because the good people, who are aways in the majority, permits it Let every voter prepare to turn out at the primary election, and there will be nothing to fear.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

As a political organ the Monessen Independent is in hard luck. Just at the time when the Independent was ready to shoot Congressman Huff, like Davy Crocket's coon, "came down." Then, when the Independent gets its guns trained on the Huff candidate, that man withdraws himself and the Independent's candidate, quits the race, while a Butler man is slated to run without opposition.

The trouble with E. F. Acheson is that he doesnt' seem to know just where he stands politically, and consequently he is continually getting muddled.

While the many astronomers have been warning people what would happen when the earth dips into the comets' tail, the result thus far has been practically unnoticeable.

In Washington, D.C., they are having great time firing people nowadays. Another secretary was discharged day before yesterday. Pretty soon they won't have enough to count the census.

Possibly the only advantage gained by being a first nighter at the show, is that you escape the talkative man who has seen the play.

Familiarity.

A coal miner residing when Wordsworth was poet laureate of England a worthy Cumberland yeoman walked many miles in response to widely scattered notices to hear the "poet laureate" address a meeting When he discovered who held the high sounding title, he left the hall in indignation "Twas nobbut old Wadsworth o' Rydal, efter aw!" he said scornfully on his return to his family.

Has an Answer.

This story is being told on a Swede in central Kansas who was given to excessive use of the bottle. He was working at a certain house, doing odd jobs and the daughter of the house knew of his reprehensible habits. She thought it time for some one to remonstrate with him on the error of his ways

"Why," she asked, "are you not ashamed to spend all your wages and make your wife take in washing? Why don't you give her some money?"

"Well" he answered, "I have an income besides my wages."

"Oh is that so?" said the daughter, somewhat mollified

"Yes" he said, "I have an income from the queen of Sweden"

"What for?" asked the girl

"For minding my own business," answered the Swede, going on with his work.—Kansas City Journal

The Troubles of a French Academician

The candidate, once elected, is bound to pronounce a harangue before he is allowed to take part in the work of the noble body The director who happens to be in office answers him. This oration is invariably, or at least should be, composed first of thanks, more or less humble, for the great honor con[illegible] to pay one's predecessor And oh, how difficult that sometimes must be! More than one has rushed to the encyclopedia, then to the libraries, so as to get some clear notion of the illustrious eximmortal! Then fate is often ironical. A historian may have to celebrate the talent of a writer of light comedies, a legitimist may have to praise a Socialist, or else the newly elected member may have to speak of his most intimate enemy.—Jeanne Mairet in Atlantic.

Rough on the Architect.

"When I got the order to design a big wholesale house for a firm that has stores in five cities besides New York naturally I was elated," said an architect. "I'll plan a building that is bound to be satisfactory,' I said to myself, 'and then they will give me the commission for those new stores they expect to put up in those other five cities'

"Well, I did turn out a splendid store—a store that was admired by everybody in the wholesale trade My patrons were pleased too, but instead of giving me an order for those other buildings they simply used the same plans over and over again and built all their houses alike. That's what I call playing a low down trick on a fellow."—New York Globe.

JUST MARK THE DIFFERENCE

While Political Comparisons Are Odious They Are Interesting at This Time

UP TO VOTERS SAYS PENROSE

The Biggest Boss Will Name the Candidate Say the Factional Followers in the Democratic Camp—Some Significant Editorials.

Comparisons are of necessity odious, but a review of the political conditions in Pennsylvania at this time is much more instructive than offensive. The attention of the people was never more firmly fixed on political conditions. The general interest in the result of the approaching campaign in this State borders closely upon the interest attaching to a national contest. The policies, principles and professions of the leaders of the two great political parties—Republican and Democratic—are being weighed and sifted and analyzed and the purpose of the average voter is to have the whole people get the best there is in the way of State administration.

The State conventions of both parties are but a few weeks away. The Republicans of the State will assemble in convention within a month. The Democrats will gather to make their gubernatorial nomination within five weeks and the methods of the leaders of the two parties at this time justify serious consideration and warrant comparison.

"The question of a Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania is up to the Republican voters of the State," is the message which has been sent abroad by Senator Boies Penrose, the accepted Republican leader in Pennsylvania. Senator Penrose is exceedingly busy with his very responsible and ever increasing duties at the national capital. He has proved his worth in the United States Senate. He has been for the people and with them in every effort he has made. He has led the way for the Republican party not only in Pennsylvania but in the nation and he, probably more than any one individual aside from President Taft, has made the policies and principles of the Republican party the very cornerstone of American progress and prosperity. Senator Penrose has insisted that the Republican voters should be heard on all questions of party policy. He has insisted that the humblest follower in the Republican ranks should share responsibility with the party leaders for the party's candidates and he has manifested sublime confidence in the judgment of the rank and file in the regular Republican organization. So far as he is concerned, and his interest in party success has never flagged, the Republican voters must name the Republican candidate for Governor at the convention next month. That fact is not known of all men. That policy established Senator Penrose firmly in the hearts of the Republican voters of the State. That fact has sent a dozen or more prominent Republicans hustling through the State for delegates for the gubernatorial nomination and each candidate realizes and understands that the candidate with the most delegates at the convention is certain of the nomination. That policy secured the nomination and election of Governor Edwin S. Stuart and by the same token Governor Stuart's administration has absolutely guaranteed the election of a Republican as his successor.

Now mark the difference. What individual Democrat has any place or standing in the race for the gubernatorial nomination in that part in the State? The Democratic contest is simply a battle royal of the Democratic bosses of the nation. The individuals are engulfed in the foam arising from the arena in which the Democratic big bugs are struggling. W. J. Bryan, bared to the belt, saber drawn, bedraggled banners again raised in defiance, will nominate W. H. Berry for Governor or bust in the effort. Colonel J. M. Guffey, his wounds still smarting from the humiliation heaped upon him and his followers by Mr. Bryan at the Denver convention only a year or so back, in fixed and safe command of his party organization in the State, will have none of either Bryan or Berry, Colonel Guffey being intensely human would prefer revenge to either of them and will defeat both of them or die in the last political ditch in his war of extermination against what he very properly considers the wreckers of his party. The people, of such vital importance in the Republican calculations, do not have even standing room with the Democratic antagonists. But, of course, comparisons are odious.

To the Republicans generally it is of course gratifying to realize that there is no sign of discontent or insurgency in any section of the State. In several sections individual ambitions are being adjusted to party harmony and the absence of that bossism which is wrecking the Democracy is encouraging. The Republicans of the State will approve heartily the appended sentiment editorially urged by the Kittanning "Tribune" of recent date:

"It has been truly said that Republican insurgency is Democratic opportunity. There is no man of intelligence in this country who doesn't know that the Democrats would not have a ghost of a show of winning on their own policies and that their only hope and their chief reliance is on that small body of dissatisfied Republicans called 'insurgents,' who insist that the great majority of the Republican party shall yield to them, thus insuring Democratic success. This is a clear case of minority demanding under the threat of destroying the party."

The uplifting magazines are rapidly abandoning their efforts to destroy the Republican party of the nation and the following from the "Columbian Magazine" for May, discussing the assaults upon the Republican party, is indeed significant:

"Are they blind? Do they not see the hand-writing on the wall, as clear and vivid as that which struck terror into the reveling courtiers of Babylon? Do they not see that the Republican party must either purge or perish?—and the party will not perish. It will throw off the scum which has risen to the top and in which vile things disport and fatten and flourish, and think in their puny, petty minds that the party, this splendid stream springing from the sources fed by such men as Abraham Lincoln and Hamlin and Chase and War Governors Andrew and Curtin and Morgan, and other men as great as they were pure—that this magnificent party must [illegible] the maggots and blowflies of politics, to feast and fester on! The Republican party will not perish. It will get rid of the preying parasites and vindicate its rights to the people's confidence, and to the commission which the people have given by an overwhelming vote to our Republican President.

"The Columbian Magazine is not partisan, and what we have said is in no partisan spirit. It is in the American spirit; it is the expression of that American sense of honor, decency and self-respect which revolts against the prostitution of one of the great party organizations to the service of degraded and degenerate political schemers."

A DEADLY CONTEST.

Tragic Climax of a Bicycle Race in Australia.

One of the most singular events in the annals of athletics occurred a few years ago at Sydney, Australia. The occasion was a great electric light bicycle race, and the attendance was not less than 10,000 people. There were fifty entries, two of whom, James Somerville and Percy Cliff, were not only professional rivals, but deadly enemies. Both were considered expert riders.

From the start of the race Somerville led, with Cliff a close second. Somerville kept the lead throughout and came into the last lap with Cliff only a few feet behind him. When about twenty-five yards from the finish Somerville put on a terrific burst of speed and drew away from his rival. Suddenly at this point his grip on the handle bar relaxed, and he fell forward. The machine, however, under the tremendous impulse it had received, raced ahead like an arrow, the rider hanging limply over the handle bar.

Four yards from the tape the machine slowed down a little. At this point the front wheel of Cliff's machine struck the hind wheel of Somerville's, sending both wheel and rider across the tape. Somerville won the race, but he was dead several seconds before he crossed the tape.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Fishing Snakes.

While fishing in the Fort St. George moat, at Madras, a correspondent of Country Life saw a snake fifteen inches long come out of the water with a fish in its mouth. On catching sight of the writer it dropped the fish and bolted, leaving the fish on the bank alive. On another occasion, while fishing in a reservoir near Ghaziabad, he again saw a snake emerging from the water with a fish in its mouth. This snake was about twenty-four inches long, and on killing it he was able to identify the fish as a common species of Indian fresh water fish. Later on he saw a viper, nearly four feet long, lying in shallow water. The writer hooked it ashore with his tackle, upon which the snake attacked him, leaving a large yellow fang in his fishing rod.

Chinese Filial Piety.

The following Chinese story illustrates the national regard for filial piety: A man and his wife maltreated the husband's mother. As a punishment the scene of the act was openly cursed, the active agents were put to death, and the mother of the wife was bamboozed, branded and exiled for her daughter's crime. The house in which the offenders lived was dug up from the foundations. Moreover, the scholars of the district were precluded from attending public examinations, and even the magistrates were deprived of their offices. These drastic measures were designed to render the empire filial.

Opposites.

Upgardson—Isn't a lawsuit over a patent right about the dullest thing you ever saw?

Atom—Not always. I attended a trial of that kind once that was too funny for anything. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6,000 word document he called a brief.—Chicago Tribune.

Spelling.

On a member of parliament being accused of bad spelling Disraeli humorously defended him by declaring that "a man must be an idiot who could not spell a word more ways than one."

Among all other vices there is none I hate more than cruelty, the extremest of all vices.—Montaigne.

FILIAL DUTY.

An Example From the Chinese of a Good Little Boy.

In China the "Book of Filial Duty" has been employed to instruct the young for the last 2,500 years In it are twenty-four examples for good boys The chief examples are that may be understood from the story of Wu Meng example No 20 Wu Meng It seems was very obedient to his parents One day at the age of eight he noticed with pain that the mosquitoes annoyed his parents while they were trying to sleep Presently he hit upon a plan to relieve them

Says the sketch of this classic "The buzzing of the insects sounds like 'ying ying' and a concerted hum is almost equal to thunder His tired parents are reclining on their bed, their countenances already sunk in slumber Legions of mosquitoes fiercely attack them alternately retreating and advancing The insects disturb the dreaming sleepers, and with annoyance they toss from side to side

"Wu sees them sucking his parents' blood, which causes his heart to grieve His flesh, he thinks, can be easily pierced, but that of his parents is hard to penetrate Lying on the bed he threw off his clothes, and soon feeling the pain of their attacks, he cried, I have no dread of you, nor

Although I have a fan, I will not use it nor will I strike you with my hand I will lie very quiet and let you gorge to the full'"

Thus did the parents of Wu Meng get a chance to sleep in peace.

To Make Good People.

Nothing can make good men and women that does not take them first as individuals and go to the very roots of their beginning. They need to be put right in their fundamental relationships, impressed with a sense of their duty to God and man and furnished with an adequate motive power—Rev W E Taylor, Presbyterian, Rochester, N Y

Perseverance In Divine Life.

True believers may become indifferent and lukewarm, but they cannot finally and totally fall away from the state of salvation and shall persevere and be finally saved They may fall into sin and error but he that hath begun a good work in them will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ—Rev Dr John Lee Allison, Presbyterian, Washington

Truthfulness and Sincerity.

A man's first duty to himself is to be sincere—"to mean what he says, to say what he means." Insincerity undermines every other virtue Its inward reaction is altogether evil Truthfulness is not merely speaking the truth; it is more than that. Truthfulness is simplicity in character and sincerity in motive—Rev Dr. Thomas Van Ness, Unitarian, Boston

Worked It Off.

Just what may happen to a man who isn't strictly honest was illustrated on a street car a few days ago A man handed the conductor a dollar and asked for a strip of tickets He received his five tickets, and then the conductor fumbled around for change and managed to make a "mistake." He handed the man two half dollars instead of 75 cents The man put away the money without saying a word and in a couple of minutes worked his way to the front of the car and got off 'Say, conductor," said an interested observer, 'did you know you didn't give that man the right change?" The conductor smiled complacently That's all right," he said "If he'd been honest and returned that bad half dollar I'd have given him a good quarter for it. I've been trying to get rid of that piece of money for a week I guess he deserved to get stung"—Philadelphia Record

An Observant Host.

"You don't seem to have as much call for hammocks as you used to," said the regular boarder.

"No," answered Farmer Corntossel, "I guess times have been too hard for silk stockings this summer."—Washington Star

Our Daily Ice.

Once more, altogether,
In sorrow we're sunk,

—Washington Star.

Cynical.

A Chicago professor says, "The man who never parleys over cab fare, who never scans the prices on a menu and who hibernates when he's broke carries an infallible amulet against feminine criticism"—Kansas City Star.
